DAME FORTUNE SMILES ON BENNING MEETING

Weather Conditions Favor an Auspicious Opening.

THOROUGHBREDS IN FORM

Track Gives Promise of Being Very Past -Unmasked Scheduled to Start as Favorite in Spring Handicap - Must ward; Reckon With Some Good Ones.

Favorable weather conditions have made a wonderful improvement in the Benning track, and there is not a trainer on the grounds but is taking advantage of it, and sending his horses along for all ward; selling; one and one-sixteenth they are worth. The approach of Tues- miles-flowaho, 95; Alas, 165; Valencienne, to race in the early part of it.

Judging from the way some of them are sending their charges along, the meeting cannot begin any too soon, so that fit.

All talk about the Benning horses being backward in their training is over-conditions were bad for training, but the horses were put through continuous shed work with no let-up, so that when the track improved they were ready for their outless and the state of the track improved they were ready for their outless and the state of the stat their outdoor work.

That they are stepping pretty lively was evidenced yesterday. Many of them showed exceedingly well, considering that it was the first time they were asked to through such a hard task. Usmask, a candidate for the Benning Spring Handicap, to be run on the open-ing day, did the handicap distance yesterday in 1:18. This horse does not look quite as well as he should. He appears somewhat drawn, as if he had been in training for several months, instead of fresh and big, as he should look at this

That he will go to the post a favorite for the handicap is a certainty on ac-count of his class. Still, there are some others that he will have to reckon with, the most prominent of which are Red Path, Ohnet, Figeon Post, and Himself.

Ohnet Is Fit. It is extremely doubtful if any horse entered will go to the post as near fit as Ohnet. He has been treated very leniently by Mr. Vosburg, and it is certain that he will be fighting it out with the leaders at the finish. He is not much of a work horse, but so far he has done all that his trainer has asked of him. He got his final prep on Friday last, and is ready. The stable of William Garth is also well advanced—in fact, ready to race. Two of bis string, impartial and All Saints, await only the word, and ought to win the first time they go to the post. Of the two-year-olds at the track in which interest centres just now, the best seen so far are from the stable of James McLaughlin. Mr. McLaughlin does not hesitate to say that his bay filly Eugenia Burch, by Ben Strome—The Humber, is the best filly be has ever trained. That ts saying a good deat, as he has trained some good ones.

There are some rumors affeat, however, ts saying a good deat, as he has trained central High School Boys Prove Weak at the Bat. Blue and Orange, by Fitz James-

Mr. Mackerey has also in his string the on balls, and came home on a hit by good three-year-old celt Flintlock, a Magoffin, a steal, and a wild throw. Mea-candidate for the Benning handleap, but uter led off for Gallaudet with a two bag-

They are being schooled every day, and so far are taking school boys could do nothing with Paint-the jumps admirably.

Judging from appearances they are for ward in their work. Probably the best borse at the track in thin division is G. W. Jenkins, and it is no exaggeration to may that he is a fifty pound improved horse over last season. If he goes to the post fit and goed, he should win the first time out—which will probably be on Easter Monday.

Track Is Fast.

The track is in splended condition, and if the weather holds fine, will be absolutely fast on the opening day.

Many improvements have been made.

In the fourth. He was a trille wild, giving four free purses to first, and was touched up for five singles, which, along with three errors by Gallaudet, netted the Centrals seven runs during the three indigs he presided. McDonough was then given a trial, and during the rest of the give, the high school boys were at sea. In the fifth, Cunningham traveled a rough and rocky path, and had to give way to Purvell, who fared little better, he ing totally unable to step the onslaught of Gallaudet's battausen.

Many improvements have been made, and while they must have cost considerable money, give proof that the Washington Jockey Club did not besitate to spend it when necessary. The betting ring has been enlarged, a 50-cent field with a blencher grandstand has been erected, and the new grandstand of last year Worls Loyel. painted throughout.

The most noticeable improvement is a new covered boardwalk, leading all the way from the Benning Road to the grandstand. This will be appreciated by the pa-trons of the Jockey Club, especially on wet days, as they can leave the stand and be protected all the way to the cars. From the number of horses now on the grounds, with those to arrive, who have aiready engaged stable room, the Benning spring meeting of 1962 promises to be the zmost successful in its history.

Georgetown rooters were out in force, and they saw their favorites put up a rattling good game. In every department the play was fast and snappy. Georgetown showed up exceptionally four of her twirlers being given a chance.

Need Training.

The Lafayette team is quite a strong aggregation of ball tossers, but they have not practiced for some days, and were consequently in bad form. Johnston, their star twirler, was in the box, and had be received proper support would have held he locals down to a small score.

The infielders made several costly mis ues, which gave outfielders much to do in the line of chasing the hot ones which the infielders were unable to get. Fifteen hits were secured off Johnston's delivery, all of which were made to count.

Lafayette was given first crack at the eather, the initial trio going out in order. Georgetown was off at the jump. The first man up was given his base on balls and was advanced to second on an error Third was reached on a bunt, with the bases full. Drill, the next man up, was hit, and Dowling made Georgetown's first run. #### ANNUAL AUTOMOBILE SHOW NEXT MONTH

Will Be Held at Light Infantry Armory.

Has Social Endorsement and Promises to Be a Great Success-Some of the Leading Exhibitors.

What promises to be one of the most interesting affairs of the season is the automobile show announced to be held in the Light Infantry Armory one week, beginning April 7. The exhibition is to be held under the direction of the Washington Automobile Dealers' Association, and will be made as elaborate as the space will allow. The hall is not as large as that used for the first show a year ago, but it is so very conveniently located that it will doubtless serve the purpose better. While not as large as the first effort in this direction, the show will be comprehensive and will show in detail all that is best in the field of power driven vehicles, whether they be electric, steam, gas or what not. Non-owners will be as much interested in the demonstrations as the owners and enthusiastic users of the odern vehicle driven in a modern way.

Endorsed by Automobile Club.

Socially the affair promises to be one of the most attractive features of the postlenten season, and all society represent ed in the diplomatic, army, navy and pro fessional circles will feel a personal interest in the success of the show and will lend its presence to make it so.

The National Capital Automobile Club of which Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles is president, has approved and endorsed this show, and as its membership is very large, this endorsement is valuable in that it spreads the interest in the affair.

Society Is Interested.

Nearly all the diplomatic families are enthusiastic mobilers, and their interest in the coming event is already shown in the number of enquiries about some of its features, and many of their suggestions will be acted upon by Manager Washington.

The Chinese Ambassador is an experi chauffeur, and he is one of the enthusiasts upon the subject. The pretty niece of the Russian Ambassador, Countess Cassini, is another "mobiler" who is interested. Mr. Crackanthorpe, of the British Embassy, is fond of his electric trap, which he spins along with skill.

Local Enthusiasts. Among other well-known people who are enthusiasts upon the subject and therefore interested in the show and in anything that pertains to the advancement of their favorite pastime are the family of Senator Depew, C. C. Bloomer, Senator Wolcott, Secretary Long, Senator S. B. Elkins, Dr. H. D. Frye, Gen. George H. Harries, Dr. Ralph Jenkins, Mr. Clarence Norment, Dr. Wylle, Mr. T. E. Waggaman, and Secretary of the Navy Long. The recent addition to the local array of handsome motor vehicles are those of Senator Clark of Montana, which is said to have a record of a mile a minute, and the "Red Devil" of Hon. O. H. P. Belmont. Both these remarkable may be found on exhibition for a short time.

Some of the Exhibitors,

The space for exhibition purposes is necessarily limited, but Manager Washington has so allotted the space that all the leading makers will have opportunity to show their best and most attractive vehices to the best advantage. Among those who have secured space are: The American Cycle Manufacturing Company, Waverley Electric and Toledo Steam Carriages, Oldsmobile Gasoline Carriages, Rose Manufacturing Company. Electric Vehicle Company, and Baker Mo-tor Company. Attractive features of entertainment will be provided, and altogether it will

Going to the Races at Benning?

The curtain rises on the Beaning Spring meeting Tuesday. Under progressive management it promises to be the most successful Washington meeting in the history of the sport. If you are going to attend, the Maxim & Gay Company invites you to follow its information on the horses throughout the meeting. The company believes it will pay you.

The Maxim & Gay Company collects and sells information of horses engaged at race meetings. The information is based on the "workouts" or "trials" of the horses, which show better than anything else what he chances are of every horse in each race. Only in cases where horses are equally "fit" are the figures of handicappers used. The Maxim & Gay Company has been in existence one year. It was the first cencern to make an organized effort to collect racing information of value. The success of the company last season was THE TURF SENSATION OF THE YEAR. Sold at a nominal price its information placed the casual racegoer on a speculative equality with the buggest "plunger" or shrewdest ipokmaker. Thousands of dollars are spent by the Maxim & Gay Company in the collection of this information, and not one or six "plungers" or bookmakers could afford the expenditure it makes each week. Boiled down the question is one of mency, plus brains. The Maxim & Gay Company employs both and that is why it successeds.

The Maxim & Gay Company's track experts are the most experienced and eleverest in the country. The company has the best men because it pays most for their services. For weeks they have been watching the preparations of the horses that will "sport wilk" during the meeting of the Washington Jockey Club which will begin at Benning Tuesday. They have lines on every contender in each race on the opening day.

Maxim & Gay's Three-Horse Wire!

While Maxim & Gay's information on each day's races embodies full selections for each race the company particularly commends to the racing public its famous THREE-HORSE-WIRE, which names the THREE SUREST WINNERS OF THE DAY. Few of these turn out to be favorites. This series gives patrons the maximum of profit with the minimum of cisk. A flat investment of $100 during the last four weeks of the New Orleans meeting on each horse given in the Three-Horse-Wire showed a profit of more than $2,000. New Orleans was one of the poorest meetings encountered. At Saratoga last summer a flat bet of $100 on each of the three "Specials" daily netted a profit of $22,000.

Terms $5 daily; $20 a week. Entire Benning spring meeting, seventeen racing days, $50. Local Subscriptions should be sent to the Washington branch office, No. 405 Tenth street northwest,
